Shirley, NY, – NAASCO Northeast Corporation (NAASCO) announced the recent signing of a distribution agreement with Ross Aviation, Ltd., Gloucestershire, England. Ross Aviation currently distributes products and services for Bruey, Accurate Accessories and others, and has agreed to become authorized distributor of NAASCO products and services in the UK and abroad.

Working in tandem, Ross Aviation and NAASCO have been in discussion regarding plans on maintaining a sizeable inventory of accessories overhauled by NAASCO to serve as an exchange pool. Such items will include starter generators manufactured by Lucas/TRW/Goodrich, and Aircraft Parts Corp. (APC) that have been overhauled using NAASCO's exclusive ETR-20™ and ETR-25 "Mercury Mod"™ improvement programs. In addition to starter generators, inventory will include stock items such as actuators, GCU's and other rotables.

Since 1984, NAASCO has worked closely with helicopter operators such as police aviation units, off-shore oil support, air ambulance, and tour operators worldwide to provide cost-effective repair solutions for a variety of aircraft components.

Jim Leslie, Vice President, component overhaul, of NAASCO says, "We are looking forward to working together with Ross Aviation to explore the opportunities that are available in the aircraft accessory market in the United Kingdom".
